PROJECTS

FREELANCERTH

A freelancing platform web app built with Next.js along with some of the most popular tools and libraries in 2023, such as Prisma, Tailwind CSS and React Query. The demo website is available at <https://freelancertth-staging.vercel.app/>. This web app was part of the final project at the University of Glasgow.

CHUP CHUP

Chup Chup is a platform that sells vouchers from various sectors. I was a member of a group of developers who created this website while working as a junior front-end developer at Cheddo Technology. The primary technologies used for the front-end were React, Redux and Bootstrap.
